Did you know sun protection is the best anti-ageing treatment?

It has been proven that 75% of the signs of skin ageing are caused by solar radiation. Ultraviolet rays (UVA/UVB) and infrared rays (IR-A) penetrate into the core of the cell, altering its genetic code. This irreparable damage mounts up year after year, such as in a “hard disk”, being noticeable at a later time.

Scientists say that our skin has solar memory, it retains sun damage that has accumulated during childhood and adolescence. On reaching maturity, it becomes visible in form of wrinkles, darkspots, flaccidity or sensitive skin.

365 DAYS / YEAR

The Photoprotector, an essential product for our daily beauty routine

EFFECTS OF DIFFERENT RADIATION TYPES

	Characteristics	Positive Effect	Harmful Effect
UVB	Greater energy and less skin penetration (only up to the dermis).	Delayed and lasting tan. Vitamin D synthesis.	Sunburn. DNA alterations. Skin cancer
UVA	Less energy than UVB rays, although greater penetration into the dermis.	Immediate tan, of short duration	Ageing: Darkspots, wrinkles, flaccidity. Sun allergies. Skin cancer.
IR-A	Longer wavelength, they reach the deepest skin layer, the hypodermis.	Warmth, well-being and comfortable sensation.	Produce heat and promote the negative effects of UV. Oxidative damage. Generation of free radicals. Premature skin ageing Skin cancer.

5 KEYS UNDER THE SUN

1. Total protection does not exist. Despite applying a cream with the highest protection index, a minimum part of radiation penetrates into your skin.
2. The difference between protection indexes from 15 is minimum. An SPF30 blocks 96.7% and an SPF50 blocks 98%.
3. An SPF20 means that it takes you 20 times longer to redden than if you are not wearing any sun protection cream.
4. For an effective and safe protection, apply the cream some time before sun exposure.
5. Although you use high protection indexes, it is important to renew the application while your skin is under the sun.
